Overview

Shark Food is a trivia game with the wacky abilities of Magical Athlete.

You're a pirate on a plank answering trivia questions (don't ask why). Get the answers right and you receive gold, get them wrong and you walk on the plank.

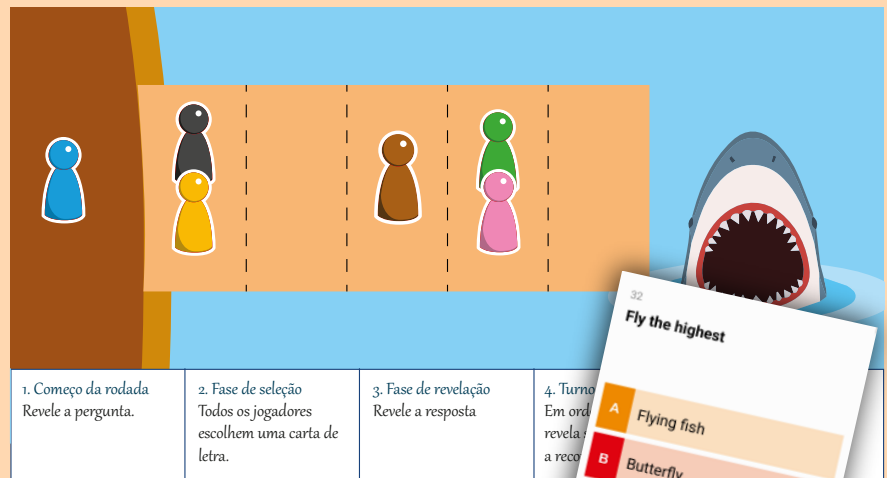

But each player has a special ability and they all might have a ripple effect on each other.

Game highlights

- Simple framework: the game itself can be explained in a minute.
- 20 abilities: that activate one after another, creating unpredictable and funny effects.
- Thematic trivia: the pirate theme helps to make the game more approachable and easier to grasp.
- Expert trivia content: I'm a trivia buff with 5 trivia games published (How Dare You? Quiz Wiz, etc)

Components

- 1 board
- 10 pawns
- 160 cards
- 60 cubes

- 1 Draw a question. The 4 alternatives are ranked.
1st: 2 gold / retreat 2x
2nd: 1 gold/ retreat 1x
3rd: walk 1x on the plank
4th: walk 2x

- 2 Each player uses a card to secretly choose an alternative

- 3 In order, each player reveals their answer, gets their reward and may activate their power.

When he walks on the plank, everyone in the same space also does.

When he has the top answer, he can push someone 2x on the plank.

Noone more advanced than her on the plank can gain coins.
